As Fourth of July revelers gathered in downtown Portland, Ore. on Friday, a hulking, heavyset person in fuchsia hotpants allegedly went on a violent rampage, punching and attacking people with a knife and stick. One victim was a minor. The attacker was so violent and out of control that a team of police officers had to use sedation to make the arrest.

The five feet ten inches tall, 260-pound suspect was booked into jail by Portland Police as an unidentified “Jane Doe” “female” after the suspect was released from hospital on July 5.

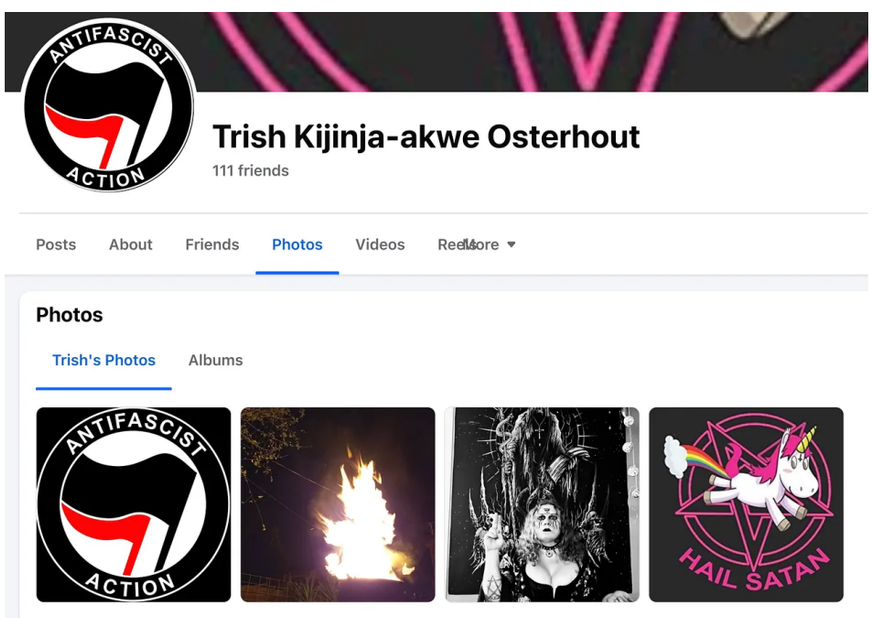
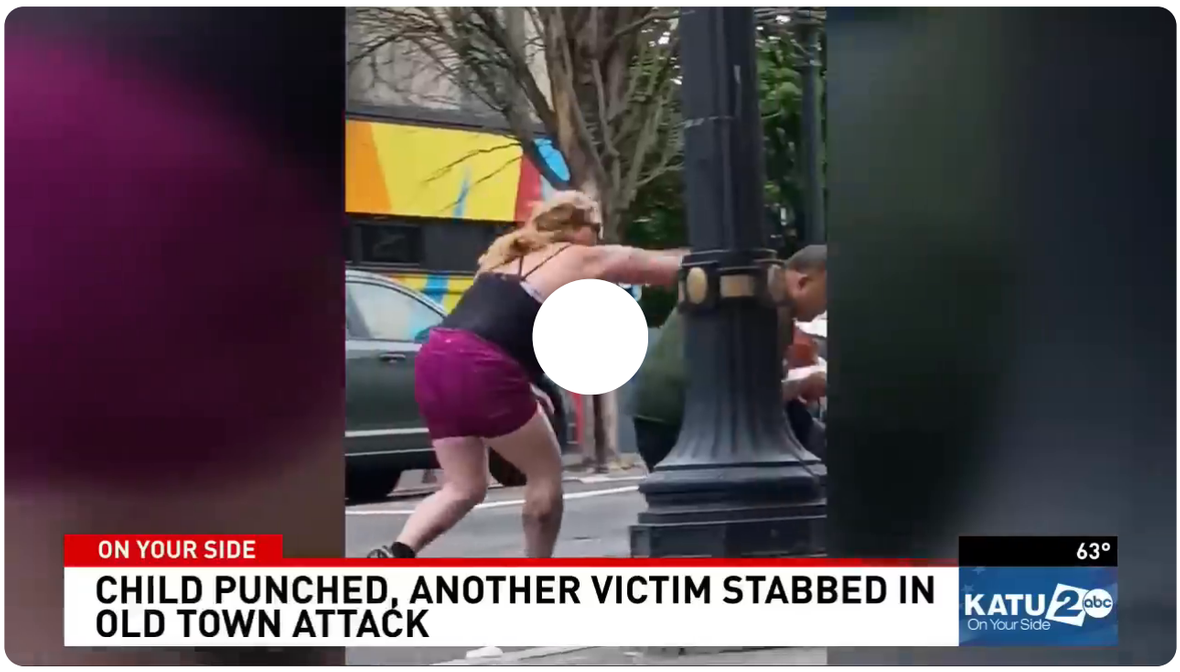
Ngo Comment can exclusively report that the suspect is a transgender Antifa member (“Trantifa”) named Trever Eugene Osterhout, who has a history of alleged domestic violence. The 42-year-old satanist and LGBTQ+ activist uses the name “Trish Elizabeth Osterhout.”

Antifa member Trever Eugene Osterhout is also known as 'Trish.' He uses symbols of Antifa and the occult on his social media.



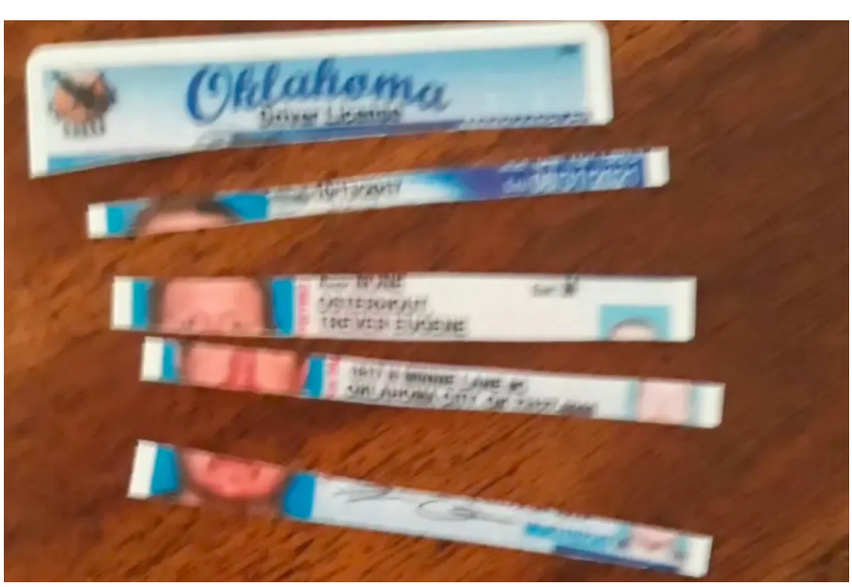
Local Portland broadcaster KATU first broke the story about the assaults in downtown, publishing bystander video of the then-unidentified trans person repeatedly punching and kicking a man on the street.

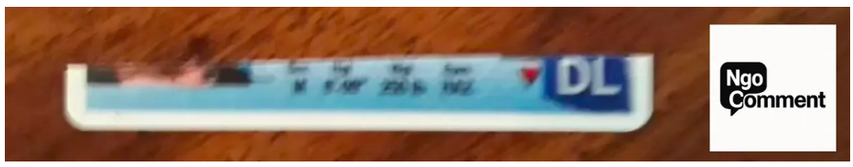


Osterhout's transgender friend, Jennifer Dieringer told KATU: "I saw her come by. Her words were, and I quote, 'I'm going to go to prison for killing somebody.'"

Osterhout had allegedly cut someone with a knife around Southwest Naito Parkway and Ankeny Street before moving on to attack people nearby.

Trever Eugene Osterhout's California ID lists him as 'female.' California allows one to self-identify his or her sex.





Trever Osterhout is originally from Oklahoma. He cut up his old identification.

By the afternoon on July 5, the Portland Police told Ngo Comment: This person was treated and released from the hospital. The suspect was not able to be identified and was booked into jail on felony Assault in the Second Degree (2 counts) and misdemeanor Assault in the Fourth Degree (1 count) under the name 'Jane Doe.'"

The PPB was inquired about the suspect's identity being Trever Osterhout, but had not heard back by the time of publication. All local media are still referring to the suspect as a "woman."

Update: The Portland Police confirmed to Ngo Comment that the suspect's name is indeed Trever Osterhout.

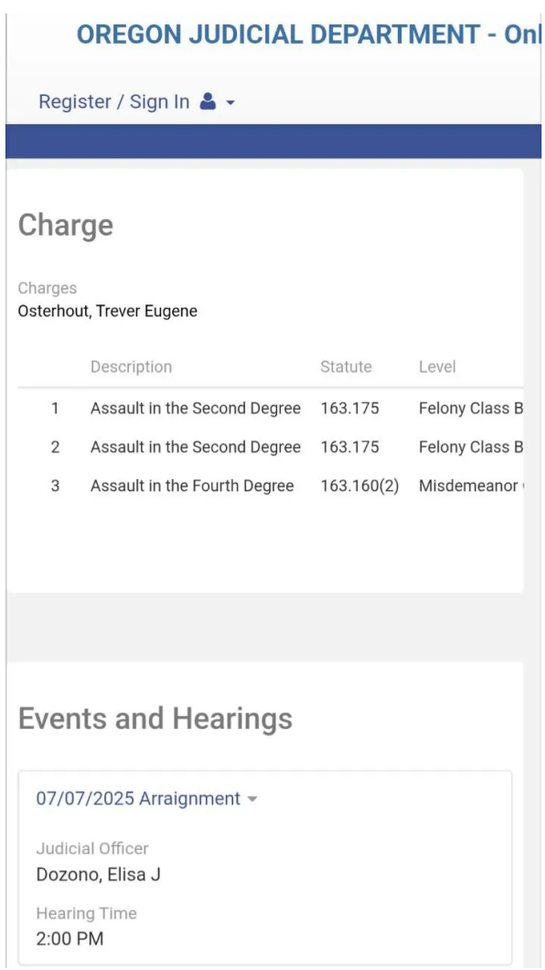
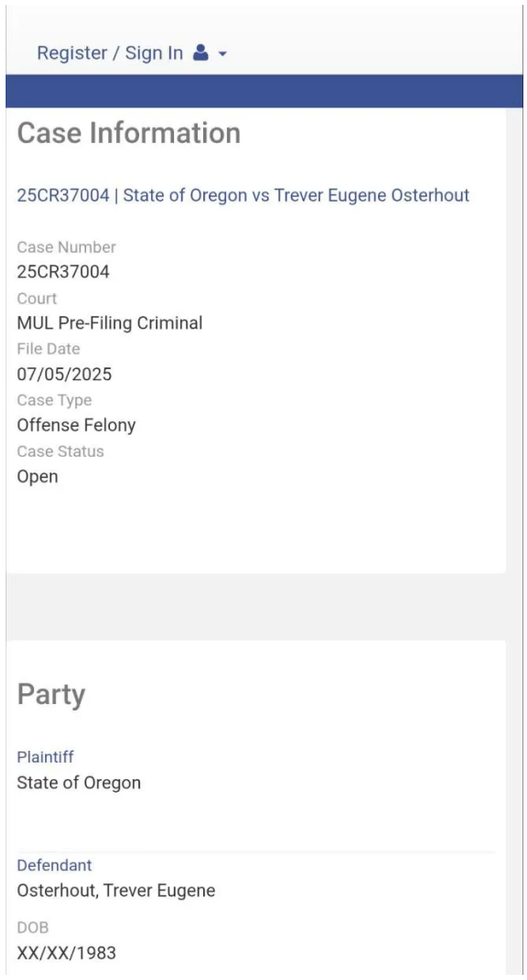
Osterhout has a history of being accused of domestic violence



A formal case in Oregon has been filed against Osterhout under his legal male name



He has written about being transgender in social media posts and suffering from substance abuse.

“At 4 yrs old I knew something was wrong with my body,” Osterhout wrote in a Facebook video. “I played with my grandmas make up, had pony tails in my hair, loved to help my grandma cook and clean and took care of my baby doll.”
